

A Heartfelt Message from Weierbach & Genetti Prosthodontics

Dear Valued Patient,

More than 36 years ago I began my journey as a prosthodontist with nothing more than a blueprint of a dental practice and a dream. From those early days, Weierbach Prosthodontics grew –quite literally from the ground up—into a practice defined by trust, relationships, and a shared commitment to excellence in patient care.

It is with mixed emotions that I write to share that I have recently retired from Weierbach & Genetti Prosthodontics. It has truly been an honor to serve as your prosthodontist and dentist over the years, and for many of you, over decades. I am deeply grateful for the confidence and trust you have placed in me and in my team throughout this journey.

While I am stepping away from clinical practice, I am not stepping away from dentistry entirely. I will continue teaching at my alma mater, the University of Pennsylvania School of Dental Medicine and pursuing other opportunities to mentor and serve young dentists, while also dedicating more time to my family.

I leave you in the hands of Dr. Loren Genetti, with whom I have practiced alongside for the past five years. She is a very conscientious and capable prosthodontist and will serve you with the utmost of care.

Thank you for allowing me to be a part of your lives and your dental care over so many years. It has been a privilege and a responsibility I have never taken lightly and will always cherish.

With sincere gratitude and warmest regards,

John A. Weierbach II DMD

---

Dear Valued Patient,

It has been both a privilege and a true joy to care for you and to work alongside Dr. Weierbach over these past five years. When I first met him, this practice embodied everything I believed a dental practice should be. His dedication to his patients, and the lasting impact he has made on this community and the field of dentistry, are undeniable, and I feel deeply fortunate to have learned from him.

While it will feel different not having him here, I am grateful to carry the practice forward and remain committed to providing the same thoughtful, patient-centered care and high-quality dentistry you have come to expect.

It is truly an honor to care for you, and I look forward to the years ahead.

With immense gratitude,

Loren N. Genetti, DMD, MS

WEIERBACH & GENETTI
PROSTHODONTICS

Specialists in Cosmetic, Restorative & Implant Dentistry